ISSUE 3

NBU RALLY 2016

Order from NBU on-line store www.newbritishunion.co.uk

This years rally is a few weeks away this should give everyone plenty of time to make arrangements. The meeting will start at 1300hrs so you should aim to be there for 1200-1230. The date is Saturday the 29th October. The redirection point will be in Burton-on-Trent railway station car park. Those travelling by car will be given marxism and subsidised route to the venue those travelling by public transport will be given a lift to the venue. You will be asked for your name and ticket number communist leaders, the before being redirected to the 'intellegentsia", the hired venue. Tickets can be bought agitators, comprise as from NBU on-line store, members are welcome to purchase for friends who they modern degenerate would wish to bring along. The rally wish to associate with. will include video show, merchandise tables, refreshments, quest speakers undermining and of bringing and speech from NBU leader but the best part of these meetings are the chance to spend an afternoon with like minded people, to be with your comrades, meet old friends and make new ones and really be a part of this movement.

THE TIME OF WAR

time of war is now upon us. In opposing Cultural Socialist-Communists we British patriots are fighting no sedition, crime, cowardice, clean, no honourable enemy. The actual Bolshevist or

We have to deal with those with the sole purpose of about the downfall of Great Britain. We have to deal with men and women who are happy to teach young children that Religion, Chivalry, love of Home and of Country, that Duty and Decency are but mere frauds and shams, and that the words Honour and Dishonour have no meaning. These people have as little title to be recognised as honourable opponents as, say, a sewer-rat has, to be termed a gentlman. We can have no conciliatory policy. We cannot defeat our opponents by fighting in kid gloves. Let us attack and go on attacking the Cultural The time to speak, and the Marxists by every means and by every device in our power. We can only win by hitting and by hitting hard. How

Blasphemy and Treachery

under the transparent quise of political correctness and Tolerance? PC Tolerence is iust an excuse and camouflage of a moral cowardice.

much longer are we to suffer

NEW BRITISH UNION - PEOPLE NOT POLITICIANS - NEW BRITISH UNION

offensive a collection of miscalled 'humanity' as any

The New British Union candidate in a democratic election would find themselves in an atmosphere both novel and repellant. This activity, as we might expect, is directed not to elevating or constructive purposes, but to deliberate deception and the vilification of opponents. To take part in it, and beat the old gangs at their own electoral game. The NBU candidate in future contests will not wish to emulate the fatuous figure cut by the old gang candidate. They must be known and trusted by the electorate, and for practical ambitions and desires must be subordinated to the common good. The candidates job is to know and be known by the electorate. Votes are not given because electors read party programmes, but on trust and confidence. Labour gained reasons their names must be that fanatical support which it still holds in so many areas, in spite of repeated betrayals, because Labour candidates could say to the electors, "we are your own folk, we come from your own streets, we have lived your lives, we know your problems, therefore trust us." And they were trusted, but no longer.

> Let all candidates make this resolve. We will start now, studying our district and our movements policy, focus on local issues tackling difficult spots with our Blackshirt spirit. However tough the fight we shall win, because we do not fight to put letters after our names or to inflate the vanity of pompous great people may live.

avoid this NBU candidates will shouted from the rooftops. stand as 'independent' for But before everything, a candidate representing our now. Since, however, the ballot and not the bullet is ourmovement must feel that they individuals, we fight that a political armament, we must are a member of a team. It is overcome our revulsion at this the main principle of our scene so degrading to all who creed that individual

GARY RAIKES

It is important that we all try to appreciate the reality, that movements such as ours will always struggle at the ballot box. History has taught us this. Even the great aspiring statesmen, like Sir Oswald Mosley, or John Tyndall, struggled to stand the masses to attention long enough to have them drag themselves to the polling booths. And our 'democracy' is so skewed toward protecting vested interests - the Duopoly of Tory and the fake Labour party, the City, the culturedestroying 'progressives' who have an echoing voice in every degenerate BBC presenter, and feebleminded fake 'Conservatives'. The whole news-cycle in our nation is dominated by so-called journalists, who fawn and speculate over petty political power-plays, and the performance of foreign money markets, to name a few of the daily distractions. None of these issues are tangible for the real men of our society, nor do they reflect the real problems affecting our national life. Is it then, any wonder, that 60-70% of people do not vote at all?

The 'Quiet Revolution', as put forth by NBU Leader Gary Raikes, is a political concept based on a philosophy of covert action. The action is true, grassroots style politics fostering change nationwide, from the local level. The fundamental application of this philosophy is the induction of true British nationalists in all forms and level of local government. We at the NBU have recognised that obtaining appointment to parish and community councils is both a symbolic, and practically necessary starting point, in the pursuit of this philosophy of action. To have a decisive influence in the unglamorous service of the community, is every bit as important as managing public affairs in the highest political offices, for the simple reason that our state apparatuses are failing the nation if even one community is abandoned to degradation.

The NBU is a young movement, yet already has a handful of parish councillors, and one county councillor we also have a number of our people about to take up seats on Scottish community councils in November. These patriots do not enter into their public service as grandstanders, making an ostentatious show of their political allegiance. These individuals enter as independents, true patriots who want to give nationalists a voice where it is most needed, while serving their communities. I am seeking appointment to my local community council. I will be proud to participate in such matters as local planning permission. I will be proud to bring the best interests of my community to the attention of local public and private services. I will take pride in these seemingly modest endeavours, because I am filled with a great desire to serve my people as are my fellow Blackshirts.

Patriotism is best expressed through passionate service to the community. Not through pointless demonstrations and confrontational marches. If fellow nationalists will similarly express their patriotism, and at the same time pursue a closer unity of our movements, we can in time influence public institutions and public life in a manner which will endure. In time, hundreds of nationalists, embracing this philosophy of action, and standing independently within parish and local councils, can declare en masse their unity to one party, one nation, one leader . And thus from such humble endeavours, our cause can be represented in parliament by the finest patriots.

Fellow patriots, I am not a politician. I have no desire to seek selfegrandisement at the expense of my country men. NBU- People not politicians is more than just a slogan. From my elders, I have learned enough of the history of the British nationalist movements, to understand that we have been let down by seemingly endless internal strife a lack of leadership, real vision and discipline. The Marxists have occupied our public life in no small part because of their unity. We are all brothers in arms, fighting for a far superior cause - let there be no enemies on the right lets unite in the quiet revolution

NBU Youth

Welcome to the third issue of The Blackshirt. The last one before this years rally. I hope to see many of you in Staffordshire on 29th October, if you can't make it, there are many other ways you can help the movement as this and the following page explains.

The Editor

Advertising boards and such like are there for a reason. If the streets were irrelevant then they wouldn't invest so much time, money, and effort feel we are still falling short. advertising there, and would concentrate only on TV and radio.

Of course, we don't condone fly-posting or any other illegal you. Get in touch; network; activity, but nevertheless many have said that we need, the contact form below if you somehow, our material on the can provide any of the streets -off the Internet's echo-chambers and into view of the public. I've heard it said that such activity would suit those who prefer to be active at night, under the cover of darkness, to covey our message.

Dissemination of ideas and perspectives, explanation of our position, must captivate the audience and rouse support. It simply cannot be confined to the spheres of internet, seen and discussed by already-converted dissidents back-slapping each other in the ether's echochambers. While the advent of memes and trolling (modern-day agitprop) has been extremely advantageous to the Cause, I

What can we do?

Put simply, help us to help offer your services by using following:

- Graphic artists;
- Leaflet/poster designers;
- Printers:
- Artists/Cartoonists
- Web designers;
- Those with skills in Photoshop and other such software;
- Video editors/those who can compile Youtube videos;
- Any other such skills not listed.

What I feel to be the benefits of legal agitprop:

Directly accesses the public;

Cannot be ignored unless removed;

Incites a climate of doubt and at least compels consideration of our message. It implants the idea, perhaps sowing the seed for fruition at a later date;

Serves to boost morale and confidence of patriots and nationalists while out on their travels;

Publicity ought to reignite energy and enthusiasm as well as our areas:

With hate crime laws now essentially infused agitprop –that is to say with anti-terror laws it is better to go underground;

The clampdown is tightening, restricting our activity -especially online. Perhaps now is a good time to re-visit the previous methods.

adverse consequences for the Movement. Indeed, I embrace it -but as only a secondary, complimentary production to the positive material which leads.

All literature must be positive, In acknowledging the fareven if it embodies a negative superior numbers and message or context. For example, anti-invasion posters are essentially useless left floundering. Our cousins if they merely highlight the acting as a deterrent to problem (negative) without those seeking to occupy the solution (positive) or what sure many others, like to we stand to lose. This is not to say I reject negative negative insofar as, say, it therefore greater talent in the U.S., we in the U.K. are still across the Pond have stolen a march on us and I, and I'm think we have ideas and input in the waiting in this regard but are perhaps in some areas thwarted by the lack of skills listed above and are left than negative in the sense of wanting.

highlights our plight, rather

HAVE YOUR SAY

SONG OF UNION

Lift high the flag! On with the fight!

Strength is in union: Let the land unite! Fearless, faithful unto death, all to bare and give! For the land that we love and the peoples right! For Britain yet shall live! Mosley leads on in Britain's name, our revolution sets men's hearts aflame! Fearless, faithful unto death, all to bare and give! For the land that we love and the peoples right! For Britain yet shall live! E.D.RANDELL(Tune: "SONS OF THE SEA")

To ensure all the planned events and others go ahead please donate to our fighting fund, every penny will be used to further the fascist cause in Britain, every penny will be another nail in the coffin lid of the political elite as every penny will fund a fascist future!

DONATE ON SITE HERE

http://newbritishunion.co.uk/ propaganda-appeal.html

DONATE BY CHEQUE OR P.O

Gary Raikes Hill of colp croft Turriff Aberdeenshire AB53 8HL

Thank you for your support.

IN NBU STORE

The Elgin cell met this week to discuss future plans. We will have candidates in the local elections next year in various wards. We have once again tried to book Elgin town hall to hold a public meeting to introduce the people to British Fascism. This event would be open to all to come along and ask questions for themselves to find out the truth about our movement. The last time we tried the local labour councillor went into meltdown and urged all public buildings to deny us access, democracy and freedom as long as it suits them! We have every right to book the town hall and the people have every right to hear what we have to say.

Martin Smith

The democratic creed has clearly run its course. It is stopped. "All men are created they in the traditions of like a tree choked by ivy, only the ivy lives, the tree itself is dying, though it still flings its leafless branches to the sky.

In the spring of democracy its became sedate and watchwords of liberty and equality were torches of hope bourgeois. it gathered unto to the masses who were loaded with the chains of feudalism. The fire kindled by

DEFYIPOLITICIAN

free and equal."but no formula is perfect or ever lasting. No revolution can maintain its dynamic force indefinitely. as spring waxed into summer democracy respectable, essentially itself many vested interests, political and economic. As the french revolution carried Rousseaus classic formula throughout the western world parasitic, became dominant, until liberalism was the accepted creed of the 19th century. Napoleon was beatengrowth. Now winter has come it. How can they believe in and exiled, but the tide of liberalism could not be summer turned to autumn those vested interests, at first the future. choked their host, the creed which had sanctioned their and democracy is dying. Let us be perfectly fair. There are still many honest people who genuinely believe in democracy. So steeped are liberalism that they cling desperately to its original ideas, shutting their eyes to the evils it has created. They cannot see that the system which was to have liberated man has, in fact, liberated the forces which exploit man. Our guarrel is not with those who sincerely if mistakenly believe in the ideas of democracy, but with those who use these ideas as a means for their own selfish ends. The great mass of the people care little for formula or systems. Their constant struggle for survival gives them few opportunities for theorising. It is results they want, fair wages, human working conditions, housing, opportunities for recreation and advancement, above all justice, security and faith in

Democracy, or rather sham democracy, is not giving them these results and they know the existence of liberty and equality while they are tied hand and foot to a remorseless machine, while profligate luxury flaunts self seeking media magnate, itself before grinding poverty? the careerist politician, the How can they have faith in a wordy intellectual, the cultural soldier Staff Sergeant democratic future when every Marxist. None of these care a few days some new crisis or jot for the principle of liberty, threat of disaster is hurled at apart from its propaganda them? How can they look to value. But one and all want the parties for salvation when liberty to pursue their own every party in its turn has signally betrayed them? The liberals have betrayed them because it was liberalism which first set in motion those forces which now threaten to overwhelm

The conservatives have betraved them because conservativism seeks to conserve only the vested interests which liberalism created. Labour has betrayed them because it has turned back from the revolutionary task to which it was pledged in order to pluck the fruits of the corrupt system it used to denounce.

them.

Democracy as we know it today is just a facade of highsounding sentiments and worn out formulae, behind which are entrenched an army of vested interests. we know them well, the cosmopolitan financier, the ends and preserve their own particular grafts. Therefore the people must defend liberty even to the death.

Gary Raikes

On an overcast wet September day NF patriots from Derbyshire/Nottinghamsh full military honours. ire held two minutes silence & layed flowers in Michael Sharpe Remembrance of local Kevin Arthur Froggett, 2419666 Royal Corps of Signals. Staff Sergeant Froggett was killed in action on the 16th September 1989 by the IRA. Mr Froggett who was married with four children & was stationed in army barracks at Lisburn, Northern Ireland. Mr KA Froggett was shot by the IRA just after midnight, as he & a colleague repaired a telecommunication mast at Coalisland RUC base. Taking advantage of the bright moonlight, a sniper fired around thirty bullets into Staff Sergeant Froggett whilst carrying out maintenance duties. According to locals, the two bullet riddled bodies dangled lifelessly from their safety harness lines, until other soldiers came and cut them down. A Coalisland IRA man was later arrested & charged with murder. Staff Sergeant Froggett was layed to rest at Birchwood Methodist Chapel in Somercotes, Derbyshire. Mr K A Froggett was buried with and women have joined together in rediscovering twist to delude and fool the the greatest idea this country has ever known.

An idea so great and so dear of apathy thrust into the to them that the storms of violence, of victimization, of every form of abuse and attack have hardened them and created a comradeship more durable, more splendid in its spirit than anything that has yet been conceived by man.

Those who came to join the struggle found a new joy, a new idea, a new life. Their hopes and aspirations became one with the hopes and aspirations of their creed, no line divides them from their movement, they are one, one hope, one spirit. It is this spirit that has prompted our members to make great sacrifices. What prevents a united people marching into their heritage? The national press is one stream of lies, the press which is controlled and abused by the money-power. The propagandist depravities of the BBC, poisoning the minds of this generation,

In New British Union men polluting the minds of our children. Every trick and people, not only with lies but with apathy. The needle arteries of the nation to keep them quiet, to stop them from possessing what is rightly theirs, because union, not for purposes of destruction, but for purposes of creation and construction, if we can but bring together this great and inspired people in British union and light them again with the resolve to live and be great, then let all the forces of decadence the British people in possession of their own means the dispossession of the exploiter and the usurper.

KEEP BRITAIN'S CULTURAL IDENTITY ALIVE FOR FUTURE GENERATIONS!

If we can achieve British Union as we did in the last two world wars, when we were lit by the radiance of that moment in the courageous determination of all that a great nation should live and be free, if today we can achieve that come against us, let all the forces of evil strike at us in vain.

But one thing must be, the union of the people. Because salvation will come from the people alone, it won't come from the press or money-power, or the parties kept by the moneypower. Salvation must come from the people, and that is how the birth and dawn of Union has come!

At the end of this forth year it spreads across a nation, all the forces of decadence huddling in coalition and trying every means to check us if they can, have failed. We see before us the land which we can make our own, the land our fore-fathers won. If we have the manhood and the courage to hold it, to preserve that heritage for our people which was bequeathed to us, an opportunity for the present from our own great past. The urge of our people to march into their mighty heritage finds expression in the modern movement of the British union, which rises above a corrupt system ruled by the political elite. With us is the heart of our people, and the urge of our people, to march on, in strength, in union at last to scatter the handful of enemies and break the shackles that bind us.

The nation, composed as it is of individuals, each possessing their own political opinions, is suffering from a thorough lack of singleness of purpose. It is in that lethargic state where differences of intention and confusion of aims slow any possibility of a return to prosperity. It is even doubtful if the best and well disposed citizens realise that, while they admit there is something wrong somewhere they are making no effort to find a way out, and still less trouble themselves to exercise their minds on the matter.

For centuries we have had ceaseless talk, talk, talk in the Houses of parliament, it is becoming increasingly obvious that they are failing to function as the safeguard of democracy. Whose country is this? Does it belong to those who love it and who are prepared to sacrifice their all and are doing so in its interests. Or does it belong to those who put the contemptible notion of party bigotry before the interests of the nation. There can be no justification for the assertion at this stage in the history of a formerly great and prosperous industrial nation that every party has a right to try its hand at its own methods. Without the will of the people directed and raised to the patriotic rendering of service to the community before self and party legislation is powerless. Raise the spirit of the people to that, and you have the safeguard of the nation accomplished. Will you prove yourselves true Britons and be fearless and be 'up and up them', or will others with a greater animation and a truer fighting spirit have to show the way? We British Fascists may not have numerical power but we are not lacking in the will and in the spirit. Our flesh is not weak. We will lead if you are willing to follow, make British Fascism a reality in 2017.

Support the BM magazine 'Broadsword' -UK rates are £15 for 5 issues.

Make payable to 'Broadsword' Send cheques/postal orders to 'Broadsword' c/o The Sunwheel Office; stretching back to the days P O Box 6. Heckmondwike, WF16 OXF. West Yorkshire. England.

How we sell our publications is another matter, street sales newspaper 'The Phoenix' of racial Nationalist or NS newspapers was a regular activity of years gone by, but times have changed, the nature of traditional sales pitches has changed, city centres have changed, the rules have changed. British town centres and city precincts are now swarming with hostile non-whites; local by-laws now prohibit the selling of political (read racial Nationalist) publications in the soon as they did. shopping centres, football grounds will no longer permit radical political literature being sold outside the stadium or inside the stadium. The old methods have gone.

Several years ago one of the smaller racial Nationalist parties decided to try to revive the old Nationalist paper sales pitch on Brick Lane in the East End of London.

This pitch had a tradition when Blackshirts from Sir Oswald Moslev's BUF sold 'Action' and 'Blackshirt' there; in the 1970's and 1980's the National Front sold 'NF News' and 'Bulldog' there, British Movement sold the BM there; later the BNP sold 'Spearhead' and 'British Nationalist' there. A long tradition going back decades. But when a small band of British Nationalists tried to regenerate the tradition, just a few years ago, no sooner had they taken up position on the old site, and got out their publications, they were surrounded by police - the carrier vans arrived almost as

The paper sale was over before it started, reportedly the police were very hostile and were led by a very aggressive non-white sergeant.

Possibly the police had been tipped off about the activity by an informer, or perhaps the sales team had been spotted by a member of the ethnic minorities and called as an 'emergency' - who knows. But it is a useful case to remember.

Rally to the flag 29th Oct Staffordshire NBU

modern driving force that relevant to the current adapted to the situation of the time. New British such has adapted to the situation we face today. Fascism was not strait jacketed into any strict ideology if something did not two back! work it would be discarded in favour of policy that would work. Getting results that

Fascism in the past was a doctrine of fascism no longer sheltered from the reality of situation Britain faces. Movements that do not evolveNBU yet lack the courage and Union is New Fascism and as and adapt simply die out, the conviction to do anything in NF is a good example, the BNP that used to take two steps forward and one back now take one forward and today's world.

> New Fascism is attracting the of 'left and right' today we young in a way 'nationalist'

Armchair generals that attack the real world should note that NBU is based on the BUF not a carbon copy or some sort of fan club. Like Mosley and all other fascists in the past we have taken the best have taken the best of old benefited the country and its parties have failed to do, people were important not being tied to any blinkered political vision.

This fact seems to have escaped the 'old quard' they slavishly follow an old

NBU's modern approach to fascism while retaining a link direction proud to wear the with the past is working. The black shirt and fly the flag of old guard are out of step and British Fascism today and out of time let them remain in tomorrow. their dusty drinking clubs

Fascism to forge a new future, discipline, dedication,

Hail Britannia.

NEW BRITISH UNION - PEOPLE NOT POLITICIANS - NEW BRITISH UNION

